Background Information

I am a Licensed Psychologist – Doctorate in the State of Vermont. I was trained as a School Psychologist in Colorado, and completed my Doctorate at the University of Vermont with a focus upon Developmental Psychology. I currently am a psychologist in independent private practice and am the sole proprietor of Synchronsaic LLC.

Prior to starting my private practice, I worked in Vermont in Community Mental Health agencies serving children, youth and their families predominately in their homes and schools. My clinical work in these settings addressed a variety of emotional, behavioral, and developmental concerns experienced by children, youth and their families using predominately behavioral and cognitive behavioral approaches. I also have a background in assessment both as a school psychologist in school settings, as well as with families whose children and youth have complex diagnostic presentations as part of an interdisciplinary team. I continue to provide clinical supervision to masters and doctoral level clinicians seeking licensure.

Other relevant experiences include directing a program for youth with Autism and as the Children's Clinical Director for a Community Mental Health Agency. I have taught graduate classes in Developmental Psychology and Applied Behavioral Analysis for Johnson State College, SNHU's program in Community Mental Health, and undergraduate classes at UVM in Adolescent Development. I also have worked in quality assurance and outcomes in community mental health, and continue to spend part of my professional career working in policy as it relates to the evaluation and promotion of community mental health.
